

Instructor How-to Tutorial: Activity Settings: REOPEN

Understanding the REOPEN setting

Reopen is a mechanism that allows students to correct their answers on a previously submitted activity or sequence of activities. We created this functionality because students complained about having to redo all activities in an assigned sequence--even if they only “messed” up part of one activity.

For example, in Unidad 2, Vocabulario: Aplicar consists of 8 activities worth a total of 66 points. Let's say the student misunderstood activity 2 of the 8-activity sequence but got everything else correct. If a student starts a NEW attempt, they would be required to redo all eight activities worth 66 points, even those they got correct.

With Reopen students are allowed to re-open and re-submit one-time only per activity or sequence of activities. They only have to redo the questions they got wrong since their answers are saved from the original attempt. In most question types, students will see a visual indicator of what they got wrong.

Reopen Setting Defaults

- Activities: students have 1 reopen attempt per activity.
- Exams/Tests: students have only 1 attempt, but are not able to reopen it.
- Reopen does not apply to projects or discussion boards.
- FOR OPTIMAL USE, DO NOT CHANGE THIS SETTING.

How does Reopen work?

Re-open only applies to already submitted activities. After students have submitted one or more attempts on an activity, they will see a REOPEN button next to the submission in their review activity screens.

Students may only click REOPEN once per activity; once they have reopened one attempt, they will no longer see the REOPEN button.

IMPORTANT: Reopen and Late work. Students should be careful not to reopen a submission after the due date. If the due date has passed and a student reopens a submission, the once on-time submission will now be late since it will be submitted after the due date.
